

© by Lynn Clark. Illustration is from SOS Help For Parents & used by permission.

Are your children's arguments and problem behaviors getting you down? Would you like to learn additional ideas and methods for helping children, ages two to twelve, to develop increased maturity?

Maybe your child's behavior is fine, but you would like some help in motivating him or her, or making sure that your child is growing up to be a responsible, self-confident adult.

Perhaps you don't have children of your own, but you care for them on a regular basis. If you are a grandparent, foster parent, teacher, social worker, day care worker, nurse, or volunteer this enjoyable workshop is for you!

© by Lynn Clark. Illustration is from SOS Help For Parents & used by permission.

Advertising Your SOS Parenting Classes & Counseling

SOS Behavior Management And Parenting Classes

Sample Brochure To Announce SOS Parenting Classes.
Customize Your Own Brochure!

© by Lynn Clark. Illustration is from SOS Help For Parents & used by permission.

SOS BEHAVIOR MANAGEMENT & PARENTING CLASSES are for you!

When: August 24, Wednesday evenings, for four Wednesdays.

Time: 7:00pm until 8:30pm.

Where: The Parenting Center, 600 Main St.

Fees: For couples ____ and for one participant ____, for all four sessions.

You'll learn new ideas and methods for helping to improve your child's behavior. Your child will be better behaved and happier and you will be a more confident and effective parent.

Beginning August 24, you will meet four consecutive Wednesdays from 7:00pm to 8:30pm, at The Parenting Center. Some partial scholarships, based on need, are available upon request.

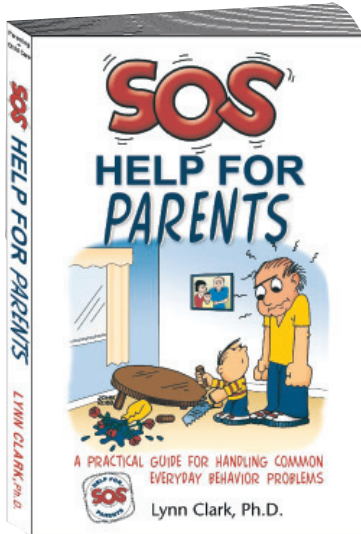

Contact us at 800-000-000 by August 15 to reserve your place or to ask for more information.

You will meet other parents and together, you will increase your confidence and learn how to effectively manage problem behaviors such as: aggressive behavior, temper tantrums, back-talk, sassy talk, whining, not minding, demanding behavior, self-esteem problems, sibling conflict, teasing, tattling, and many other problem behaviors. You'll see video examples of effective methods for managing behavior.

Permission is granted for you to copy the images printed on this brochure, so that you can customize and print Your Announcement or poster advertising SOS parenting classes, but not for any other purposes. Do print the © note next to each illustration. If you have questions, please email us at sos@sosprograms.com. See the next page for more information.

Sample Parenting Classes Brochure & Information

© by Lynn Clark. Illustration is from SOS Help For Parents & used by permission.

Permission is granted for you to copy the images printed on this Sample Parenting Brochure, so you can customize and print your poster advertising SOS parenting classes or counseling, but not for any other purposes. Do print the © note next to each illustration that you use. If you have questions, please email us at sos@sosprograms.com

As the person leading the classes or workshop, give or mail copies of this announcement to community professionals and agencies serving children and parents, including schools and preschools. Ask that the flyers be handed out to interested people or posted.

Flyers on light yellow paper may be more noticeable. For additional ideas and resources to enhance your teaching or practice go to www.sosprograms.com and open the link, "FREE RESOURCES."

The SOS Video and materials can be used for enjoyable parenting workshops, meeting two to six sessions. In addition, you can select parts of The SOS Video to support your one time presentation to a group such as to a PTO.

Radio, Television, and Newspaper Announcements

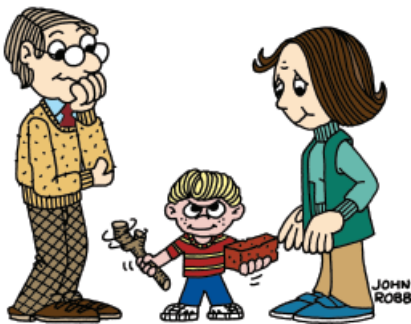

Many radio and television stations broadcast public service announcements for organizations. Newspapers also are interested in publicizing local events. Use the stationery of your organization and address the envelope to a specific person or to, "Attention: News Editor." Modify and send the following news release to the news media.

Public Service Announcement, 35 Seconds

Dates to run: _____

"Do you want to improve your child's behavior? Join the SOS Behavior Management & Parenting Workshop for parents and others who help children ages two to twelve. You'll learn new skills for handling common everyday behavior problems."

"This four session workshop begins August 24 at 7:00pm at The Parenting Center. Call 800-000-000 to reserve a place, or for more information."

© by Lynn Clark. Illustration is from SOS Help For Parents & used by permission.

© by Lynn Clark. Illustration is from SOS Help For Parents & used by permission.

© by Lynn Clark. Illustration is from SOS Help For Parents & used by permission.

Steps for Customizing "Your Announcement" for SOS Classes

1. Go to "www.sosprograms.com" and then open the link FREE RESOURCES. In the section "Helping Children 2 to 12" you will find, "Advertising Your SOS Parenting Classes & Counseling Services." You can make a similar announcement and customize your announcement to fit your objectives.
2. Copy printed sections from "Announcing SOS Help For Parents Classes" and simply paste the sections onto Your Announcement - the announcement that you are designing on your computer.
3. Copy SOS illustrations from "Advertising Your SOS Parenting Classes & Counseling" and paste them onto Your Announcement. Do this by using a screen capture tool such as "Snipping Tool," which you can download from the internet. You have permission to copy up to five SOS images for use on your announcement for SOS classes, workshops, or counseling. Do print the © note next to each illustration that you use.